From Our Rector

"My child, conduct your affairs with humility, and you will be loved more than a giver of gifts." Sirach 3:17

"O Lord it's hard to be humble, when you're perfect in every way," says the country song. It's a funny piece, but honestly, humility is often hard to come by these days. We live in a culture where much of the news is about we're number 1 in this or that. Politicians, celebrities and yes, even you and me, can easily fall into the trap of pride. "Keeping up with the Jones" is an art on social media.

But the Scriptures time and again call us down from our high horses. From Pharaoh to David, the Old Testament is filled with "how the mighty have fallen." Choosing Peter to lead his Church, Jesus nevertheless chastises him in thinking he knows better than God when it comes to Jesus' fate. He scolds the disciples when they argue who's the best; and of course, we know how he dealt with the Pharisees.

In paying special attention to the poor and marginalized, Luke's Gospel has Jesus asking us to see them for who they truly are: children of God, worthy of his love and our compassion. The rich host today is challenged to invite those who could not possibly repay the invitation, echoing earlier verses where Jesus asks us to "love our enemies." Remove the log from your eye, take away the shroud of pride and open your eyes to those who may not think, or look, or sound like you. Do good for others because it is the right thing to do, not because of any accolade you may receive.

Last week we welcomed our students back from their summer break. The administration, faculty and staff worked diligently preparing for their arrival. Today, as we have done every autumn since 1944, we open our doors to a new generation, full of promise and hope. To these young students we owe a great deal, and it remains our mission to educate them to become men and women of faith and service. Please keep them and their families in prayer as they begin a new academic year. God bless them and remember to drive gently around campus!

God Bless. Fr. Posey

A Message from Principal Davis:

While we institute the recommendations of our 5 year Strategic Plan, we will enhance our academic rigor and prepare our students for the educational and spiritual encounters of the real world. We will continue to offer a safe learning environment that provides students a secure school building and superior academic, social and emotional experiences. We will meet every student's academic needs with diversified instruction that not only enhances their educational experience, but capitalizes on success and reinforces the concept of hard work and the self-realization of accomplishment.

This year we will also undergo the Design for Excellence (DFE) process for reaccreditation. This self-study will culminate in March 2023 and there is no doubt in my mind that we will pass with flying colors as we already exceed all of the areas of inspection.

I speak for the entire staff in expressing our joy and excitement as we look forward to a wonderful 2022-2023 school year. We are not only prepared to work with our students in the pursuit of excellence, but do so with the joy of Christ in our hearts as we develop our students in every area of growth: mind, body and soul.
