From Our Rector

"Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid."

Perhaps your Christmas tree is up by now; maybe you struggled with but defeated the tangle of lights you swore you would store more neatly last year; maybe you're just about finished with shopping for gifts and addressing cards. All in anticipation of a joyful celebration next week. Hopefully you've taken advantage of the Sacrament of Reconciliation in order to receive our Savior in the spirit of renewal, hope and promise. YOU are prepared (or almost) for Christmas. You know what's coming.

Joseph, on the other hand, was most assuredly not expecting to find his young fiancé pregnant before their marriage. It is easy to slide past today's Gospel, so accustomed are we to hearing of Joseph's "easy" acquiescence to God's commands. It's easy to forget that he was a human being. Place yourself in his position: a man in a society where lineage played such an important cultural and legal role. It is this ancestry which the evangelist takes pains to establish in this chapter. Opening the Gospel with the genealogy, affirms Jesus as the rightful heir to David and thus to kingship.

We cannot and should not gloss over the fact that Joseph's reaction mirrors Mary's to Gabriel: fear and confusion. It is no accident that the first words the angel says to them are "do not be afraid." What links Joseph and Mary even before the birth of Christ are hearts open to God's word. They trusted their own faith; a faith which did in fact prepare them both to say "yes."

In our own lives we too will be tested, our assumptions turned on their heads, our plans set awry. What will be our reaction to unexpected detours? How will we face disappointment, illness, loss? How will we handle assignments which we feel we cannot do? Fear is sometimes an appropriate response; it serves to protect us from harm; it serves as a reminder to plan. Fear is understandable but it should not hold you captive from trust. Joseph and Mary were rightly afraid: not yet married and oh by the way the child is the Son of God. Their trust didn't mean the road would be easy (and it wasn't) but the path was eased by faith that God would not abandon them. It is the same with us: through trials and even death, "God is with us." O Come Emanuel.

Welcome him into your hearts joyfully not just next Sunday, but every day. God Bless. Fr. Posey

THIS CHRISTMAS

Special Religious Development (SPRED) is a program designed to support and serve children with developmental disabilities, such as Down syndrome, Autism, and Learning Disabilities. The SPRED program invites those with disabilities to come together in a small faith community to discover God's presence in their lives and to receive the Sacraments of Initiation, based on individual levels of readiness. We seek to bring SPRED to STM in early 2023. If you are over 18 volunteering with the SPRED Program. You will receive far more than you can ever give! Questions about volunteering or seeking to enroll your child can be sent to the Director of Faith Formation, Benjamin Paczak, at BPaczak@cathedralstm.org.

Notice a change on our front cover? STM Students will be our guest artists depicting how they interpret the Sunday Readings. This week's was designed by Matthew Mullins and Finley Devereaux. From Art Teacher Sue Walia: "I love their idea...it is a baby (Baby Jesus) sitting on a man's lap (modern-day Joseph...you see the buttons and pocket on his shirt, his belt, etc). So cute. "
