“All life has inestimable value even the weakest and most vulnerable, the sick, the old, the unborn and the poor, are masterpieces of God’s creation, made in his own image, destined to live forever, and deserving of the utmost reverence and respect.” (Pope Francis)

This week the world’s attention is cast upon our nation’s capital where people will gather (safely) to march peacefully in defense of life. This defense does not end at the birth of a child, for the Church has for centuries championed the sanctity of life from its beginning to its natural, and dignified, end.

So, when we march, we march not only for a child’s right to life, we march for that child to live in a society where he or she is cared for, nurtured and free. We march in support of their parents and of the countless organizations which seek to aid families. We march in support of the poor and disenfranchised, the lonely, the sick and the infirm. For in a society which values perfection and tends to turn askance to people and things which make them uncomfortable, the Church stands boldly for them.

Marching in January can be hard; weather can wreak havoc, making each step a challenge. This time it is even more difficult with the ongoing pandemic and safety restrictions. Yet standing for life means moving ahead; it means taking those arduous and sometimes unpopular steps. But we must continue to move. Our care for the unborn and the poor should not end at Constitution Avenue or on a warm ride home. We must, in our daily lives, be their voice. We must remember that, “we are God’s handiwork, created in Christ Jesus for the good works God has prepared for us in advance, that we should live in them.” (Ephesians 2:10)

If we espouse St. Paul’s words, taking them to heart and to action, our march will lead to better things here and to our Father in heaven.

Though the Cathedral is not sponsoring transportation to the march, individuals are going on their own. You may watch the event via live stream. Please go to: <https://marchforlife.org/national-march-for-life/> for details.

God Bless. Fr. Posey
